WHO WE ARE

FEUGA is a private, non-profit Foundation based in Galicia, Spain, with a permanent office in Brussels. With more than 35 years of experience, FEUGA has established itself as a flagship organization in the field of knowledge-transfer acting as a catalyst to strengthen ties and foster technology and innovation transfer between universities, industry players and society in general. We put our extensive experience at the service of our clients with a multidisciplinary, inclusive and cross-cutting approach. FEUGA has become an expert and a benchmark organization in the areas of communication, dissemination, Intellectual Property (IP) and exploitation of R&D results, with a special focus on Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI) and multi-actor approach methodologies.

FEUGA holds a Knowledge Transfer Office recognized by the Spanish Ministry of Science and Innovation developing its work at a regional, national and EU level, from boosting the Galician University System and participating in several initiatives related to innovation and entrepreneurship (such as the BFFood accelerator programme, Datalife and InfabHub Digital Innovation Hubs) to partnering in more than 25 EU funded projects.

Our success as an organization is driven by the quality and excellence of our services endorsed by two key factors: the high level of commitment and expertise of our multidisciplinary staff and our strategic positioning in Europe. We take a special pride in our team, comprised of more than 20 highly skilled professionals with complementary profiles including engineers, physicists, mathematicians, journalists, psychologists, political scientists and economic, financial and IPR experts.

Our offices are located in Spain (Santiago de Compostela, Vigo and A Coruña) and Brussels.

Services

- Communication and dissemination strategies. We help you identify your objectives, target groups, messages and the most appropriate channels while delivering a successful action plan.
- Multi-stakeholder engagement and knowledge co-creation strategies. We design online networking and knowledge dissemination tools, such as interactive applications and ICT platforms. We make them tailored to the reality of each project, attractive and user-friendly for stakeholders.
- Communication materials design. Visual identities are the backbone of communication (book of style, flyers, brochures, posters, newsletters...). We ensure that your key stakeholders, potential business partners and general society know your brand and impact.
- Web design and social networks. We envisage, create and manage project websites and social media networks, the cornerstone of real-time communication today.
- Media relations at European level. Our worldwide network allows us to reach out to a large and very diverse audience. FEUGA is a member of 15 different platforms and associations at European and international level.

Why us?

With a proven experience of more than 35 years in the field, FEUGA can be the Communication Manager you were looking for to help you achieve your goals and put your ideas and projects on the map. By designing a tailor-made communication and dissemination strategy, we help you identify your communication objectives, target groups, messages and the most appropriate channels to engage your target stakeholders through state-of-the-art communication plans and tools.

FEUGA provides high-quality and audience-tailored content in digital and hard-copy formats, such as brochures, posters, newsletters, infographics, publications, videos, press releases, press calls, books of style, websites, podcasts, media kits and social network management, among others. We also coordinate the production and publication of more technical and scientific materials like innovation factsheets, handbooks, training modules, technical and scientific articles, practice abstracts and demo videos. We make available our experience and professionalism to your project. Our team of experts is currently leading the communication strategy of 10 EU projects. We pride ourselves on the more than 200 brochures and factsheets delivered and the outstanding management of social media networks, with more than 7000 overall followers. We put our experience to your service to get the media impact you need for your projects throughout our extensive and trustworthy relationship with journalists all around Europe and FEUGA's wide international network of more than 3000 stakeholders.

Services

- Public engagement and multi-actor strategies development. We help you to develop methodologies to bring together the right stakeholders from science to practice to answer real problems with consensual solutions.

- Multi-actor approach (MAA) training. From theoretical to practical knowledge, we will guide you through the best practices on how to successfully manage MAA projects.

- Public engagement events organization. Following your goals, we will create tailor-made and innovative networking actions to engage your target stakeholders and help you build reliable and long-lasting collaborative relations with them.

- Citizen science actions. We are here to help you translate science into attractive messages to increase society's appetite for innovation. We build strategies adapted to your project and goals addressing the challenges faced today by the new generations when pursuing careers in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM).

Why us?

With an international expert team in Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI), FEUGA makes your projects and initiatives successful, interesting and with a long-lasting impact by creating and animating open innovation ecosystems and by defining knowledge-transfer methodologies based on a multi-actor approach. Following RRI principles, our team will plan and coordinate activities addressing your stakeholders' engagement objectives, ensuring there is a real involvement in research and innovation actions.

RRI implies that societal actors (researchers, citizens, policy makers, business, third sector organisations, etc.) work together during the whole research and innovation process in order to better align both the process and its outcomes with society's values, needs and expectations.

In practice, RRI is implemented as a package that includes multi-actor and public engagement in research and innovation, enabling easier access to scientific results, the take up of gender and ethics in the research and innovation content and process, and formal and informal science education.

Success stories

With our experience, you can reach out effectively to multiple societal actors, through stakeholder engagement and social awareness. Our goal is to connect with different key target groups (i.e. practitioners, scientists, advisors, companies, NGOs, policy-makers, etc.) and enhance a close cooperation with them.

- Engage society in research and innovation activities, with the implementation of public policies in RRI in 5 networks at EU level, the management of sectorial roundtables on G2030 and actively promoting and participating in multi-actor projects and other initiatives such as:

- Increase access to scientific results by designing materials and communication tools focused on enabling stakeholder engagement.

- Promote formal and informal science education: FEUGA manages a labour insertion programme for students and new graduates in Galicia. More than 3.000 fellows and 1.500 companies per year participate in this Fellowship Program (www.feuga.es/en/grants/).

Target

Universities, Schools, SMEs and Large Enterprises, EU Project coordinators and partners, Associations and Clusters, NGOs, etc.
